THE BROKEN GROCERS' BANK SUSPENSION.

Terrible Homicide and Suicide at Lyons, N. Y.—Parnell, Dillon and Davitt Receive Delegations.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Great excitement continues among the creditors and depositors of the Broken Grocers' bank. Mr. Stephen V. White received and his counsel were present since early this morning, endeavoring to collect together the assets. White said he had already deposited $120,000, and that the remaining assets would more than cover the claims of the creditors and depositors. The only losses would be the stockholders. He believed that the bank was suffering largely from forged paper in connection with J. Lloyd Haigh's indebtedness.

HOMICIDE AND SUICIDE.

LYONS, N. Y., Jan. 3.—A terrible homicide and suicide occurred here today. Miss Francis Hovey, a very highly respected young lady of this place, entered the store of her father, hat and fur dealer, and in a supposed fit of insanity shot him, the ball penetrating the left temple and producing instant death. Then, reloading her pistol, she went up stairs and shot herself in the same place. Miss Hovey is slowly sinking, and no hopes are entertained of her recovery.

The Baltimore Fire.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 3.—At noon to-day the fire steamers are still throwing streams of water on the cotton stowed in the warehouse of Thurston, Harris & Company on Buchanan's wharf, which took fire last night. A little over three thousand bales of cotton were in the warehouse, of which John Merryman & Company, dealers in fertilizers, owned 2,600, which were fully insured in the following offices: Hartford, Conn., $45,000; Home, N. Y., $50,000; Lorillard, N. Y., $15,000; North British, $40,000; Laconfiance, France, $25,000. Total $175,000.

It is estimated that the loss on cotton will be fully 60 per cent. The warehouse, belonging to the Lemmon heirs, which will be almost a total loss, was insured in the Queen, of Liverpool, for $20,000.

Randolph & Jenks, a Philadelphia firm of cotton brokers, had about eleven hundred bales stored in the warehouse, which is said to be fully insured.

Wm. E. Hooper & Sons, Baltimore, lose about one hundred and forty bales, which was fully insured.

Several warehouses adjoining were stored with grain, flour and other produce, which was damaged by water, but to what extent cannot be ascertained yet.

Among the losers are David Dows & Co., damaged on grain, but which is said to be fully insured in New York and Brooklyn companies. Trail & Gambrill, flour merchants. Harvey & Brothers, grain merchants, all fully insured, but the loss will be comparatively small.

The Grant Trip.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Jan. 3.—General Grant held a reception yesterday morning at the City Exchange, at which a number of the old West Pointers, citizens and colored people called, when the city authorities gave the party an excursion down the river below Fort Jackson. In the afternoon the party were taken to Bonaventura and Thunderbolt. In the evening, Grant, Sheridan and Fred Grant dined at the residence of General H. C. Jackson, and there met Generals McLaws, Waine, Lawton and other ex-Confederate officers. At night the Aldermen gave a serenade to Grant at the Screven House, when the ex-President responded, briefly acknowledging the compliment and regretting his short stay in Savannah. The party will leave at 4 o'clock this afternoon for Florida.

From Maine.

BOSTON, Jan. 3.—Special dispatches from Augusta say that rumors prevail in some of the counties that certificates of election have been issued in blank form, bearing the seal of the Secretary of State and given to the Republican members who have been counted out. Appended to the certificates are the words, "You will be protected!"

FARMINGTON, Me., Jan. 3.—Louis Voter, a Democrat, who was counted in by the Fusionists as a representative, has returned his certificate to the Governor, believing that the reason given for the issuance of the certificate to him is not sufficient to justify his acceptance of the position.

A French Flood.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—The flood in the Seine is becoming very serious; great blocks of ice made a break of two hundred feet in a temporary wooden bridge opposite the Invalids. The river is rising a foot.

The Military Commissioner at Cabul reassembled to try prisoners, ten of whom have been sentenced to be hanned; one was proven to have killed Mr. Jenkyns, the secretary of Major Cavagnari's embassy.

The danger from the flood in the Daulie is increasing, and thousands were watching Thursday night and Friday, expecting the river to flood Vienna.

The Courtney-Hanlan Race.

NEW YORK, Jan 3.—A Rochester special dispatch has the following: Courtney was here to-day and signed the contract for the race with Hanlan, which is to be rowed according to the terms of Blaikie's recent proposition, at Washington, or any other suitable place, on May 20th. The contract is to be sent to Blaikie to-morrow, and with it Courtney's $500. It is then to be sent to Hanlan, and if he signs the contract the race will be rowed for the six thousand dollars.

The New Orleans Carnival.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 3.—The Times says the costumes and floats for his Majesty's Grand day procession on February the 10th, are marvels of elegance and beauty and in fact we may safely say that each one of our societies will put forth every energy to make this carnival one of the most brilliant and enjoyable ever given on this continent.

Illness of the Composer Wagner.

LONDON, January 3.—Galignani's Messenger states that the illness of Richard Wagner, the eminent composer, is so serious that little hope is entertained of his recovery.

Made on Assignment.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 3.—The Behrig Brewing Company made an assignment, but arrangements have been made to continue business.

Singular Death of Twin Children.

Reidsville Times.

Thursday night, December 18th, in this place, the twin children of Squire Moore, colored, died, the one at 6 P. M. and the other at 9. No doctor was with them. Number one died suddenly, with something like croup, and the other in about two hours was taken the same way and died as suddenly. We have heard of women and men catching hysterics from each other on account of the sympathy between them, but this was a case of infant children about twelve months—still it must have been something of the sort.

CAMPAIGN DOCUMENT.

Number and Character the Republicans Distribute.

Washington Letter to New York Tribune.

An interesting statement showing the number of political documents sent out by the republicans during the campaign of 1879 has been prepared by the Republican Congressional Committee.

The whole number of speeches and other political documents was 1,981 968. Of these 539,375 were sent to New York, 402,893 to Ohio, 160,367 to Iowa, 152,043 to Maine, 87,762 to Pennsylvania, and the remainder (except 64,167 sent to newspapers) to other States. The documents consisted mainly of speeches delivered in congress at the extra session, and of the veto messages of President Hayes. Besides these the documents included a brief history of the Republican party, especially of its financial record, an account of the attempted usurpation by the South, and the speeches delivered by Secretary Sherman at Steubenville and at Portland.

As most of the documents were sent out in response to the calls of state and local committees which indicated the number of copies of each one desired, the statement affords a pretty good indication of the popular demand. Of Senator Conkling's great speech in the Senate, 157,750 copies were distributed; of the President's veto messages, 228,500 copies, 76,500 of which were in German; of Senator Blaine's speech, 102,241 copies; of Senator Chandler's two speeches, 231,000 copies; of the debate on pensioning Jefferson Davis, 120,500 copies; of General Garfield's speech, 62,500 copies; and of Representative Horr's short and terse speech on the real needs of the South, in which he said: "She should raise horses and hogs more, and h—— less," 700 copies.

The financial speeches made in the house in the course of the debate on the Warner bill were also in considerable demand. No less than 232,535 copies of them were distributed. Among these were 50,200 copies of Representative Crittenden's speech, and 39,500 copies of Representative L. P. Morton's.

It will be understood that the above documents comprised only those distributed and directed by the congressional committees. Besides these the several state and other committees distributed many thousands more on their own account, and there were also distributed by them for campaign reading from 750,000 to 1,000,000 of the political extras of the New York Tribune.

Industrial Items.

The farmers of Lancaster, Pa., are agitating the question of establishing a beet-sugar factory. At a recent meeting of the Farmers' Club, of that town, it was stated the capital was at hand to establish a factory if the farmers would raise a sufficient quantity of beets. That town and adjoining towns are to be canvassed to secure the required amount of beets.

Rochester, N. Y., is steadily growing in prominence as regards the trade of boots and shoes. Manufacturers are increasing in numbers, and being generally thoroughly trained in the business, they are entering into this branch of trade with spirit. The wholesale trade of the city now aggregates $4,000,000 annually.

The livery stablemen of Pittsburg and Allegheny have combined to advance rates. The Commercial says that horse provisions have gone up, and hence an advance in rates of hire. The figures have not been fixed, but a committee has been appointed for that purpose.

The Carbon Iron Company, at Perryville, Carbon county, Pa., are so pushed with work that they have got to build another foundry, so as to turn out the work that is required at short notice. About five hundred hands will be employed when the foundry is complete.

At the recent dairy fair in London an American milking pail attracted much notice. It has a spout and strainer for the milk, and cannot be kicked over, because the milker sits on a seat to which is attached the cover.

Living Without Eating.

Dr. William A. Hammond, of New York, has been challenged to put his theories about the ability of a human being to live any length of time without physical nourishment to a public test. The challenge has been made through a Minnesota paper by a Dr. H. S. Tanner, of Minneapolis, who offers himself as the subject of the test. Dr. Tanner claims to be able to live in comfort without food for at least thirty days, and that he has twice publicly submitted to a test, each time maintaining life, consciousness, health, and the ability to take physical exercise, although totally abstaining from food for the extraordinary period of forty-two days. He asserts that Dr. Hammond is all wrong in his published opinions about the power of the human system to endure long fasts. Dr. Hammond, however, says he never claimed under any circumstances that it was impossible for a human being to live without food for thirty days. There are over a dozen well-authenticated cases of persons living forty days and over without food. Men have been confined in coal mines and lived at least thirty days without food. Men have lived without food more than thirty days while buried in avalanches. Insane persons have lived without food for even longer terms. So have hysterical women. Dr. Hammond says if Dr. Tanner's proposition includes abstinence from water he is inclined to deny the possibility of its being successfully carried out, and that he will gladly accept Dr. Tanner's proposition for the test.

Takes His Own Life.

Oxford Free Lance.

We are called upon this week to record a very sad occurrence which took place in Tally Ho township on Saturday last, by which a well-known citizen of this county was hurried into eternity.

Mr. A. J. Walters, a man of family and a farmer of some means, for several weeks past has been allowing his appetite to get the better of his judgment, and on Friday, the 26th of December, took several heavy doses of laudanum. A neighbor detected him in the act of drinking the last dose and knocked the bottle from his hands, but the quantity previously taken had been sufficient to cause his death which took place the following day. We understand he obstinately refused to have any measures of relief administered and persistently declined to take all medicines or antidotes for the poison offered him.

It is supposed that business and family troubles were the cause of the rash act which brought his life to such a sudden termination.

ANOTHER INSTALLMENT OF SURVIVORS FROM THE BORUSSIA.

An Italian Bark Arrives at Baltimore with Five Passengers and Six of the Crew.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 3.—The Italian bark, Giocomini, Captain Banafico, from Aberdeen, arrived this morning with eleven persons, five passengers and six of the crew of the British steamer Borussia, abandoned December 2d, who were picked up at sea on the evening of the 5th of December, about four hundred miles west of Azores. The names of the passengers, all in steerage, are John S. Sullivan, formerly of the county of Clark, Ireland, but for the past thirty years a resident of Rapides Parish, Louisiana, Owen McCabe, of the county of Cavan, Ireland, for the past nine years a resident of New Orleans, his wife and children still living in Ireland; Rossandro Gonzales, of Spain, Gaetemo Salrati, of Italy, and a Frenchman who embarked at Liverpool. Names of the crew: William J. Sutherland, of Glasgow, second engineer; J. F. Farsen, quartermaster; Bernard Ganily and William Fisher, seamen; Patrick Saver and John Callahan, firemen. On their arrival here they were taken to the office of the British Consul and properly cared for.

JOHNSTON.

CLAYTON, Jan. 2.—The weather is so warm that pork is not easily saved. A great deal of it has spoiled. Mr. E. S. Moore has lost the meat of twenty hogs.

There was a public Masonic lecture at Selma, the 27th of December. Gen. Cox, Major Bingham and Mr. B. W. Hatcher addressed the audience.

PITT.

GREENVILLE, Dec. 31.—Last night at 8½ o'clock fire broke out in the grocery store of R. A. Tyson. It was only checked by blowing up two houses. The scarcity of water prevented the fire being put out sooner. There is no means of ascertaining how the fire originated. The citizens of both races worked like men. Some few acted like heroes. There were a few accidents, but none very serious. The damage as far as I can learn, is as follows:

P. Patrick & Son, two stores, loss $2,500, no insurance; McG. Ermel, stock of drugs, damage $150, no insurance; B. J. Jarvis, store and groceries, damage $2,500, no insurance; W. H. Horne, stock groceries, damage $1,200, $800 insurance; R. A. Tyson, stock groceries, damage $800, $500 insurance; A. Forbes, two stores and warehouse, damage $2,000, no insurance; W. S. Rawls, stock jewelry, damage $200, no insurance; —— Moore, dwelling house, damage $1,000, $1,000 insurance; N. B. Anderson, stock groceries, loss $600, no insurance; Dr. C. A. Swindell, medicines, loss $50, no insurance; T. R. Cherry & Company, store, loss $900, $600 insurance; E. C. Yellowly, store, loss $800, no insurance.

Every store but one on the west side of Merchant street was destroyed, and all the goods on the east side were removed to a safe distance. The loss in removing goods has not yet been ascertained, except that of Mr. A. Forbes, estimated at $375. The stores on the south side of Fifth street were not damaged. The dwelling of Mrs. Dancy and her furniture were much damaged, loss covered by insurance. The night was perfectly calm and the citizens not having retired, the fire had not made much headway before a crowd was on the ground. The Lodge of Odd Fellows had just closed and the fire was perceived by some of their number on their way to their homes. The losers by the fire seem to be cheerful; and an already making preparations to rebuild. All of them have moved to buildings temporarily. Assessments of damages is the order of the day. Fears are entertained that attempts will be made to fire the other side of the street; but I think them groundless. After the fire, you could find one hundred people, who, in their own estimation, did more to put a stop to the fire than all the rest of the crowd.

The need of the town is two large cisterns on Merchant street, and the organization of a Hook and Ladder and Bucket company. The colored people here have been anxious for over a year to organize, and the whites should assist them. Some of them are old firemen; and one of them, Frank Johnston attended to the blowing up of the building that stopped the fire. All honor to the colored men who worked so heroically to save the property endangered by the fire. Of course there were idlers of both races who were continually in the way, but the majority labored faithfully and well. If the colored men who are desirous of organizing the fire company be allowed to do so, much damage may be saved hereafter, and idlers can be compelled to keep out of the way. Let our citizens attend to this at once, and they will not regret the little expense attending it.

STANLY.

ALBEMARLE, Dec. 31.—The weather is damp and disagreeable, but very little rain, and water is still scarce.

Trade is good, but not as brisk as it was before Christmas.

Few marriages are seldom heard of now; they have decreased like the trade.

The ministers for this circuit are with us. One received a "pounding" and the other found a sumptuous dinner awaiting him and family when they arrived at the parsonage. I hope many such cordialities will be extended to them during their stay here.

Our village was enlivened a short time since by a literary feast from Prof. W. H. Spinks' school. He has worked hard to build his school up, and his labor has not been in vain. He deserves all the praise that can be bestowed upon a Christian and a scholar.

Death of the Count Joannes.

George Jones, who called himself "the Count Joannes" by virtue of some parchment which he possessed, under the supposition that it conferred upon him the title of "Count of the Holy Roman Empire," died at the West End Hotel in New York on Tuesday afternoon. Count Joannes was one of the most notorious characters in the country. He was English by birth, born in 1810, came to this country and embraced the profession of actor. It is said that he was a favorite at the old Bowery Theater under the management of Thomas Hamblin. He made money in some way—both his late wife and his daughter, Miss Avonia Jones, well known upon the stage, were capital actresses and public favorites—and went to Europe, where he acquired his title in some way or another. From that day up to the day of his death "George the Count of Joannes" strutted upon an ideal stage all his own. He was an amusing but compatively harmless egotist of the idiotic type, and a tremendous bore, especially when he turned lawyer and became "counsellor of the Supreme Court." The bar of Boston, where he resided at one time, had him prosecuted and convicted as a "common barrator," whereupon he shook the dust of that sacred city from his shoes forever, and took up his residence in New York, in which city he was tolerated for amusement sake. George used frequently to take trips across the ocean, and whenever he came to Paris the "American colony" there delighted to make up a purse and pay his expenses back to New York, thinking they got off cheaply enough by so doing. The Count Joannes has furnished much more amusement to the world than many better actors have done. He was the butt of many cruel practical jokes, which he did not deserve, bearing no malice himself, and having a kindly nature in his small way. It is to be hoped that after life's fitful fever he sleeps well.

LATE STATE NOTES.

Oxford Free Lance.

Thirty regular buyers will operate in the Oxford tobacco market during the present year.

We understand arrangements are being made for the speedy construction of an Episcopal church at Sassafras Fork in this county.

The number of school children is increasing in the county. During the past year there were nearly four hundred more registered than in any previous year.

Rents are too high in Oxford—unless some property holders change their tactics they may succeed in killing the goose which is to lay the golden egg.

Magistrates are returning quite a number of warrants against parties for carrying concealed weapons. The law, while in force, should be rigidly enforced.

Louisburg Times.

Mr. Jere Perry, placed upon our table, on Saturday last, quite a curiosity in the bird line. It was a white partridge, and he killed him on his plantation near this place.

We learn that an old gentleman (a sporting man) came out from Raleigh to Youngsville, a few days ago, for the purpose of taking a hunt, and while on the expedition sustained a very material injury by a fall.

Mr. S. H. Bailey, who lives about three miles from town, was splitting up the body of a red oak tree, three and a half feet in diameter, a few days ago, and found near the heart of the tree a common size rifle ball. It is supposed to have been shot therein one hundred and fifty years ago by an Indian, as these people inhabited this part of the country at that time. The tree was upon Mrs. Lou Barham's land.

On Friday morning last, Jane Shaw, an old colored woman, aged sixty years who lived about two miles from town, on the plantation of Mrs. W. P. Williams, dropped dead. A coroner's inquest was held and the jury returned a verdict, that she came to her death from some cause unknown to them.

Chatham Record.

We regret to learn that on the night of the 26th ult. David Coggin, of this county, had the misfortune of having his barn with its contents destroyed by fire. No insurance.

We learn that the common three cent postage stamps were recently sold at Osgood in this county, for five cents. Doubtless this was to keep progress with the advance in the price of everything else.

Dr. L. A. Hanks, of this place, made a very narrow escape from a most horrible death last week. He and Mr. Spence Taylor were on a hunt, and as the latter was mounting his horse his gun was accidentally discharged and the whole load barely grazed the face of Dr. Hanks, who was not five feet distant; indeed one shot pierced the skin over his eye, but no serious injury was inflicted.

Wild turkeys are quite numerous about here this winter. Mr. James Cooper, who resides two miles from town, was walking in his lane some days ago, when a flock of wild turkeys ran just in front of him, so near indeed that he threw his walking stick and killed one of them—a large gobbler. Even the boys about town go out in the mornings and kill them, for yesterday we enjoyed eating a part of one killed that morning by Master Samuel Jackson, a noted young huntsman of our town.

A "Muchly Married" Man.

Oxford Free Lance.

A late issue of the Medium, published at Abbeville, S. C., has a long account pertaining to one John E. Smith, an individual somewhat known in this community. According to that paper he is now the most "muchly married" man outside of any penitentiary and Utah. He is the possessor of seven wives, his last feat being the abduction of the daughter of Mr. P. R. Martin, of Heudersonville, in this State. His last victim is a well educated young lady who taught school. Said John has been figuring around Abbeville. One of his numerous wives was Miss Lizzie Patillo, of Fulton county, East Georgia. He married her in October. The Medium says: "A letter from T. C. Hicks, of Hendersonville, N. C., tells who Smith is, and says: 'I was informed when in Georgia, last fall, that he operated a while in Atlanta under the name of George Smith.' A letter from J. H. Mills, Superintendent of the Orphan Asylum at Oxford, N. C., of which place Smith is said to be a native, advises Mr. Martin to 'follow your daughter and carry her home, as Smith will probably desert her, if he has not already done so.'"

The Wilmington Star, after giving the above facts, says: "Smith has respectable parents living at Oxford. He is, we think, a native of Raleigh.

Residence Burned.

Oxford Free Lance.

We regret to learn of the destruction by fire, on Tuesday, the 22d of December, of the residence of Mr. Lawson Knott, living near Oxford.

It seems that the family with the exception of the mother of Mr. Knott, a very aged lady, were at the tobacco barns, about one hundred and fifty yards distant, when the fire broke out from the cook room. The old lady was too infirm to give an alarm and when the fire was discovered it was too late to do anything toward putting it out. The dwelling was entirely consumed, and only a few articles of furniture including two beds and a sewing machine were saved.

We understand there was an insurance of $600 upon the dwelling. The loss is estimated at about $1,000. The fire occurred between 11 and 12 o'clock in the day.

NEWBURG, N. Y., Oct. 20.—H. W. WARNER & Co., ROCHESTER, N. Y.—Gentlemen; "A lady of over seventy years of age, in failing health for over a year, has been using Warner's Safe Bitters on my recommendation. She feels very grateful for the benefit she has derived therefrom, and says that until she used it her stomach could bear no vegetable food for over three years. I believe it to be a certain specific for dyspepsia."

THE ELECTRIC LIGHT.

IT WORKS SUCCESSFULLY AT MENLO PARK.

One of Mr Edison's Lamps Burning for 308 Hours---One Burns 3 Hours Under Water.

Some twenty gentlemen and ladies visited the laboratory and workshop of Mr. Edison, at Menlo Park, N. J., on Tuesday afternoon, and were shown the different processes and experiments by means of which it is hoped that a perfect electric light may ultimately be obtained. It had been announced that Mr. Edison would illuminate the park Wednesday evening with his new carbon lamps, and it was with a view to seeing this illumination that the majority of visitors went to the laboratory. The announcement, however, was unfounded. It will be sometime before Menlo Park will be thoroughly lighted by electricity, but the preparations for this event are rapidly being pushed forward. The account says:

Lamp posts are being erected at every available point, and the copper wires which are to convey the electricity are being stretched along the sidewalks and connected with the houses. The lamp posts are of hollow iron, painted white and surmounted by an oval glass, in which the carbon lamp is inclosed. The wires pass up the hollow post and connect with the lamp. Only three of these street lamps are yet burning, two in front of Mr. Edison's office and one in front of his house. These are kept incandescent night and day, with a view to testing the fusibility of the carbon horseshoes. One of the lamps in the laboratory has been burning, it is asserted by Mr. Edison, fourteen hours a day for twenty two days, and the carbon has apparently lost none of its weight or power of resistance to the electric current. "Suppose," said Mr. Edison, "that on an average each lamp in the house is burned for five hours every day. That lamp has now burned 308 hours, which would be equivalent to over sixty days in an ordinary house. How long the carbon will last I cannot say. That is what we are experimenting on now. I am waiting for one of my carbon horseshoes to consume."

There will be no regular illumination of Menlo Park for the present. Each generator of electricity will furnish only forty lamps, and Mr. Edison has only one generator connected with his eighty-horse power engine now. He requires nineteen more before he can light the eight hundred lamps which he estimates that his engine will supply. As each generator is completed, he will add to the number of his lamps, and thus, in time, Menlo Park will be thoroughly illuminated. When this will be, the inventor himself is unable to say. In the meantime, all visitors are made heartily welcome at the laboratory, and every facility is offered for the investigation of the new electric light.

Wednesday night hundreds of persons visited Menlo Park, though the idea of a general illumination had been abandoned. However, the laboratory was brilliantly illuminated by a number of electric lamps. The entire system was explained in detail by Edison and his assistants, and the light was subjected to a variety of tests. Among others the inventor placed one of the electric lamps in a large glass jar filled with water, and turned on the current; the little horseshoe filament when thus submerged burned with the same bright, steady illumination as it did in the air, the water not having the slightest effect upon it. The lamp was kept thus under water for four hours.

Another test was turning the electric current off and on one of the lamps with great rapidity as many times as it was calculated the light would be turned on and off in actual household illumination in a period of thirty years, and no perceptible variation either in the brilliancy, steadiness or durability of the lamp occurred. The methods of regulating the supply of electricity at the central station were explained in detail, as was also the electric motor. The latter was made to pump water and run a sewing machine with only as much electricity as was neccessary to give out an illumination of the brilliancy of an ordinary gas jet. The regulation was carried on in the lower part of the laboratory, a young man by the aid of a small wheel, turning off the current to any degree desired. Attached to all the chandeliers, which are of the pattern frequently used, were screws, by the turning of which the light could be turned on and off as readily as gas.

Call for the National Republican Convention.

The following call has been issued: "A national convention of the Republican party will meet at Chicago, on Wednesday, the 2d day of June next, at 12 o'clock noon, for the nomination of candidates to be supported for President and Vice-President at the next election. Republicans and all who cooperate with them in supporting the nominees of the party, are invited to choose two delegates from each Congressional District, four at large from each State, two from each Territory, and two from the District of Columbia, to represent them in the convention. (Signed.) J D Cameron, chairman; Thomas B Keogh, secretary; Jere Harralson, Powell Clayton, George C Gorham, Samuel H Elbert, Marshal Jewell, Samuel M Harrington, William J Purman, James G Deveaux, James P Root, John C New, John Y Stone, John A Martin, William C Goodloe, P B S Pinchback, William P Frye, C C Fulton, John M Forbes, Lewis H Heath, John T Averill, G M Buchanan, C J Filley, L W Osborn, John P Jones, William E Chandler, George A Halsey, Thomas C Platt, William C Cooper, H W Scott, Nelson W Aldridge, John J Patterson, William Rule, E J Davis, M S Colburn, John W Mason, Elihu Enos, R C McCormick, Newton Edmunds, S J Bowen, Thomas Donaldson, Alexander H Beattie, Stephen B Elkins, John R McBride, Orange Jacobs and James M Carey."

Chairman Cameron gives notice of the appointment of the Hon. C. J. Filley, of Missouri, Hon John C. New, of Indiana, and Hon. Powell Clayton, of Arkansas, to be members of the subcommittee of the national committee appointed by that body to take charge of the convention hall. The resolution authorizing the appointment of this sub-committee provides that the chairman or secretary of the national committee shall be of its membership.

The Duello.

Alexandria (Va.) Gazette, 1st.

Information was received here this morning of a duel which was fought near Amherst Court House, Va., on Tuesday. The parties to the duel were Beverly C. Mosby, son of Col. John S. Mosby, and a pupil of Kenmore school, and John A. Lee, of Louisiana, a student of the University. Nine shots were fired, but neither was hurt. The affair was then interrupted and both parties arrested, but subsequently released on bail. The trouble between the parties originated some six months since, when Lee whipped Mosby, but the matter was supposed to have been settled at the time. Last Sunday, however, Mosby met Lee and asked him when he was going home, meaning to the University. Lee replied that it was none of his business. Mosby then wrote Lee a very insulting note, and the latter challenged him. Lee left Amherst for the University last night.

Congress and the Committees.

Congress will re-assemble next Tuesday. The first business which will be taken up will be the report of the committee on rules, the debate upon which promises to be quite extended. It is expected that Chairman Springer, of the elections committee, will also have two or three election cases to report after the holidays. The object of the leading Democratic lights will be to prevent the agitation, if possible, of any subject calculated to bring on a sectional division. The fear is though that the Maine complication will force a political war of words in both branches.

The committee on ways and means will, immediately upon re-assembling, take up for consideration the letter of Secretary Sherman and the Garfield bill, providing for the refunding of the five and six per cent. bonds of 1881. Chairman Wood is opposed to giving Secretary Sherman the authority to fund with a bond, bearing over 2½ per cent. interest, while the Secretary, in a letter to Mr. Morrill, of the Senate finance committee, lays down some very cogent objections to Chairman Wood's proposition.

The appropriation committee report the marshals' deficiency appropriation bill next week. Its consideration is likely to provoke a repetition of the debates of the extra session.

A movement will be made to induce the foreign affairs committee to formulate a bill very materially abridging the present diplomatic and consular system.

The banking and currency committee will probably take a vote on the Fort resolution to let all matters affecting the volume and value of the currency circulation alone, next Saturday, at which meeting General Ewing is expected to be present.

"Circumstances Alter Cases."

Virginia (Nev.) Chronicle (Dem).

"The Democrats have perpetrated fraud in Maine," cries the shocked Republican.

"The Republicans hold the Administration at this moment by fraud," suggests the Democrat.

"Ah," replies the Republican, "but two wrongs don't make a right. Even if we did steal the Presidency that does not justify you in stealing the Legislature of Maine."

"That's true," admits the Democrat. "We'll fix you when the New York Legislature meets. We'll nail the electoral vote of the State."

"Will that be right?" asks the Democrat.

"Right! You Democrats have a good deal of cheek to talk about right, in the face of this Maine business. What can you expect but that we'll take the first opportunity to retaliate?"

"I thought you said just now that two wrongs didn't make a right?" recalls the Democrat.

"Oh—er—well, this is a different case."

Week of Prayer for 1880.

At the meeting of the Pastors on yesterday, Saturday afternoon, six of the churches were represented, it was unanimously agreed to observe the week of prayer in their churches by union prayer meetings on each evening of the week, and thus unite with God's people throughout the world in supplicating common blessings. The United States Branch of the Evangelical Alliance have adopted the following topics as suitable subjects for exhortation and intercession on the successive days of meeting:

SUNDAY, Jan. 4.—Sermons on the "Fullness of Christ's Salvation."

MONDAY, Jan. 5.—Thanksgiving for the blessings of the past year, and prayer for their continuance.

TUESDAY, Jan. 6.—Confession of sin, and humiliation before God.

WEDNESDAY, Jan. 7.—Prayer for the Church of Christ, its ministers, its growth in grace, and its enlargement; and for revivals of religion throughout our country.

THURSDAY, Jan. 8.—Prayer for Christian education; for the family, and institutions of learning; for Sunday schools and Christian Associations.

FRIDAY, Jan. 9.—Prayer for nations, rulers and people; for peace and religious liberty.

SATURDAY, Jan. 10.—Prayer for Home and Foreign Missions; for the outpouring of the Spirit upon all flesh and the conversion of the world.

The meetings will be held in the following order:

Monday evening at 7:30; Salisbury Street Baptist Church.

Tuesday evening at 7:30; Second Presbyterian Church at the Chapel of the Deaf and Dumb Institution.

Wednesday evening at 7:30; Person Street Methodist Church.

Thursday evening at 7:30, First Presbyterian Church.

Friday evening at 7:30; Swain Street Baptist Church.

Saturday evening at 7:30; Edenton Street Methodist Church.

The services in each church will be conducted by the pastor of such church, and addresses may be expected each night by the ministers and lay members of the different churches. All who feel a desire to attend are cordially invited to do so.

The Southern Home.

And that is what the ladies call it—for when they get into the store the variety of goods so bewilders them that they do not know whether they are at home or abroad. But joking aside, the Tuckers, one of the largest houses in the Southern trade, announce their new goods in this morning's issue. On Tuesday morning there will be given a full detail of this establishment.

House Burned.

Reidsville Times.

On the 20th of December, between 3 and 4 o'clock in the morning, the store house, goods and furniture of Mr. J. H. Waddill, at Douglass, in this county, was burned to the ground. He only saved his bed and wearing apparel. The fire broke out in the long L to the house in the shed room. There had been none about that day. He thinks it the work of an incendiary. There was only $800 insurance. Mr. Waddill would not have been broken up from the stand for three times that amount. We trust if it was an incendiary the fiendish work may yet be fastened on him. Mr. Waddill is one of the cleverest of men and the loss is hard on him, but he is full of pluck and work and will stand it like a man.

A NEW RACE OF INDIANS DISCOVERED.

What a Mexican Miner Saw on Superstitious Mountains--Gold to be Gathered by the Bushel.

Phœnix (Ariz. Herald.

Some excitement is being created among the Mexican population of Phœnix by the story of a Mexican who arrived last evening from Reno Mountains. He came into town under cover of darkness, as he was nearly naked. His hands and feet were torn and bloody, and his face was gashed in a fearful manner. His story was told with the air of a man who had been terribly frightened and had not recovered. With a companion, he had started out prospecting about a month ago, going up Salt river. They left the river when opposite the Superstitious Mountain. Their prospecting began at this point. While climbing up the mountain, in a little gully, through black sand, and down which a large stream of water had evidently passed years ago, they were astonished to find that in this sand were large quantities of fine gold. In some places the sand was only about half an inch deep over the granite. The gold, in pieces the size of a bean and smaller, was found in the little fissures in the face of the bedrock. Very little washing was necessary, and they found a little spring of water which furnished them with what they needed. They obtained, they think, about six hundred dollars worth in half a day's work.

About 2 o'clock in the afternoon they were surprised to see an Indian woman come to the top of the gulch above the spring and start to come down. Upon seeing them she ran back over the hill. In less than ten minutes they were surrounded by fifty or sixty savages. The Indians were very small, and seemed to be of a different nature than they had ever seen in Arizona. The Mexicans were not armed except with knives, and the survivor says they were almost instantly caught with lariats. The Indians took them up the mountain and put them in a cave. They tortured and killed his companion, and his fate would have been the same but for his escape. He succeeded in getting away with only a few knife gashes on his face. They lost their gold, with all their outfit. The Indians seemed to be cave-dwellers, and were evidently excited over the place being found by outsiders. Our reporter's limited knowledge of the Spanish language makes it impossible for us to obtain all the particulars of the affair. For the benefit of non-residents we will say that Superstitious Mountain derives its name from the fact that no white man has ever been seen again who attempted its ascension. It is a tradition among the Mexicans that large deposits of free gold are to be found in its gulches and ravines. It is not known whether there is any water there or not.

Guilty of Wrong.

Some people have a fashion of confusing excellent remedies with the large mass of "patent medicines," and in this they are guilty of a wrong. There are some advertised remedies fully worth all that is asked for them, and one at least we know of—Hop Bitters. The writer has had occasion to use the Bitters in just such a climate as we have most of the year in Bay City, and has always found them to be first-class and reliable, doing all that is claimed for them.—Tribune.

Thirty Years Experience of an Old Nurse

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup is the prescription of one of the best Female Physicians and nurses in the United States, and has been used for thirty years with never failing safety and success by millions of mothers and children, from feeble infants of one week old to the adult. It corrects acidity of the stomach, relieves wind colic; regulates the bowels, and gives rest, health and comfort to mother and child. We believe it the best and surest remedy in all cases of dysentery and diarrhœa in children, whether it arises from teething or from any other cause. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of Curtis & Perkins on the outside wrapper. Sold by all medicine dealers. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

Is It Any Wonder.

In view of the immense amount of adulterated baking powders used by the masses of people in food, is it any wonder that there are diseased gums, decayed teeth and disordered digestion? To escape these evils, use Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder, the only kind made by a physician, with great care.

DAILY NEWS.

SUNDAY, JANUARY 4, 1880.

GEO. C. JORDAN, Editor and Prop'r.

In another column will be found an article from the Baltimore Sun carefully reviewing the course of Governor Garcelon in submitting to the Supreme Court certain points on which he asks advice.

The friends of Representative Atkins, of Tennessee, are alarmed concerning his health, which does not improve. His symptoms are like those of erysipelas. It is feared now that he will not be able to perform any active service during the present session.

It is quite evident that the Chicago Tribune is paving the way for an open advocacy of Senator Blaine for the Presidency, as it says that "Mrs. Jenks might possibly be of service in Maine." Having worked faithfully for Secretary Sherman it is reasonable to suppose that her services would be thankfully received by the Maine statesman.

The State Prosecuting Atorney elect for Penobscot county, Maine, in which Bangor, the scene of the Christmas day mob, is located, announces in a card to the public, that he will consider it among the duties of his office to present before the grand jury at the coming criminal term for indictment all those who may participate in any political mob or commit the overt act of high treasen against the State, and also all those who may incite to such felonies, whether they are professed ministers of the Gospel or editors of political papers.

The Greensboro North State is harping on the wrongs heaped upon "niggers." It strikes us, however, that for oppressed people they are getting along remarkable well. The State instead of trying to create dissensions between the races—and the Lord knows we have had enough of such trouble—should use its influence in conjunction with the Democratic press to create a lasting good feeling. But political issues, we presume, are sufficient to choke any such feeling on the part of the Republican managers.

The Philadelphia Times is of the opinion that Census Superintendent Walker is determined that the machinery for taking the census shall be properly organized if possible. He does not think there will be any dispute in Congress over the appointment of the Supervisors, and he will keep as far away from politicians as possible. He is very certain that if any Supervisor is found to be engaged in political management he will be dismissed from the service, whether he is a Republican or a Democrat. Nobody doubts that General Walker means all this, and if he can strictly enforce it the next census will not be the thing that some of the politicians would evidently like to make it.

Sankey, the singing evangelist, when a boy crawled under the canvas surrounding Dan Rice's circus show; he was caught and the canvasman gave him a good strapping. This little act turned Mr. Sankey's thoughts heavenward, as he thought he had too much angel material in him to be whipped by a circus man. It is now reported that the tables are turned—that Dan has joined Sankey's congregation and has become an earnest worker. There's lots of stout stuff in Dan, and if the report proves true he will make a desirable accession to the evangelist's ranks. But this wonder has been eclipsed by a still greater. It has been the abiding faith of many that a lightning-rod man was independent of all newspaper advertising. A book agent would depend on the press for good notices of his works and then trust to self-assurance to consummate a sale. But the lightning-rod man was way above this. For years the united press of the country has hurled taunts and jibes and jeers at this sovereign being; for years it has smeared him with printers' ink—free, for heretofore he was never known to purchase any; but he never heeded it. He walked serenely the even tenor of his way and didn't heed the sneers and irony any more than he did the subtle agent he was endeavoring to master, for his cheek was illimitable, and hard enough to turn a rifle ball—no one ever heard of a dead lightning-rod man. But a new order of things has apparently been created; the Savannah Morning News—a most excellent journal, by the way—contains in a late number a flattering notice of one of these benevolent friends of the human race. We confess that we cannot understand it—it is beyond our ken. Still it may be a mild sarcasm, or it may be that the new agent is not yet fully fledged and imagines that he knows more about the workings of the human heart and the lightning-rod business than those who have grown gray in the service.

THE EXODUS.

Such a stock of philanthropists never existed in any Christian country as in the United States at the present day. Ever since Parson Conway seized upon Senator Windom's project of colonizing Kansas with Southern negroes and demonstrated its capacity to "line" his pocket, like a jack-in-the-box a new one starts up every other day. It has been openly charged, and never refuted, that only about two-fifths of the refugee fund raised in Northern cities to alleviate the distress existing among the Kansas darkies was applied to its proper purpose—anyone is at liberty to guess where the other three-fifths went. Consequently private contributions were stopped, and those who have had the good fortune to secure employment get along, but the majority have to do the best they can.

Then stepped up Mr. Langsdale, postmaster, we believe, of Green Castle, Ind., who thought it was time for him to essay the role of philanthropist. But he had money to work with. Not charity this time, but a political grab bag furnished by the Radicals. Quite a number have emigrated from this State—more are to follow. Glowing stories are told of the boundless wealth that awaits the colored men on the Indiana prairies, and the ignorant class of the black race readily swallow them, even as do wonderful tales of gold mines where the yellow metal can be gathered by the peck delude their more favored white brethren. Yet these same colored people do not consider the fact that industrious white people, working at the work that is promised them, cannot by any possibility make more than a bare living; and what right have they to expect better things? A colored man of prominence goes to this reputed paradise to spy out the country and returns to tell old neighbors of his race that the statements have been exaggerated; yet they will pin their faith on unwarranted assertions made by irresponsible, venal politicians rather than believe one whom they have known for a lifetime, and whose word has been credited by whites and blacks alike from boyhood up. But this is only one phase of human nature,

And now appears another reverend fraud, Professor R. T. Greener, secretary of the National Emigration Aid Society, who has just returned from an entended tour through Illinois, Missouri and Kansas. He has made careful inquiries as to the condition and prospects of the refugees who have gone West. The Professor visited the most important settlements in Kansas and conversed with hundreds of emigrants en route for Kansas. He reports all as contented, anxious to get work and remain, and none disposed to return. The exodus, so far from stopping for the winter, he says is on the increase. Now, as the case stands it is a question of veracity between Professor Greener and the Kansas press. The former depends for his salary upon the pickings of the exodus movement; the latter are tired of contributing from their pockets for the unfortunate people who have been led there by lying statements. Some, to be sure, have procured employment, while many are dependent on charity for a struggling existence. The Kansas people, as all other people, are charitable, but it can hardly be expected that they will impoverish themselves for an humanitarian idea. We say lying statements upon the authority of the New York Tribune which pronounced the thing a fraud at its inception.

Mr. Greener says the blacks are wanted in Missouri; but they do not want to go into a slave State; but the case is more likely to be that the Radical time-servers do not choose to take their leave.

To show the fallacy and folly of this emigration movement, we copy the subjoined from the Chattanooga Times, in which it will be seen that white emigrants who have gone West to make their fortunes have become thoroughly disgusted and are only too glad to get back to their old homes:

A number of emigrants, who left here a few months ago hopeful, full of life and energy, returned yesterday perfect wrecks of their former selves. They are perfectly disgusted with their experience of western life, their former day dreams. Their faces wore a haggard, poverty stricken look, and they draw most woful pictures of their life in that country. They say that in some sections of Texas there has been no rain since last May, and that sometimes farmers must travel twenty miles for water. All the brooks, streams and springs, are dried up in certain localities, and everything wears a burnt parched appearance. They report that the cotton crop is excellent, never better; but they are so weakened by the climate, to which they are unaccustomed, that they cannot pick their cotten as it should be.

Returning emigrants are becoming numerous. They come back in every manner, by railroad, in wagons and afoot. As a rule they wear a wo-begone expression, which convinces one that the land "flowed not in milk and honey" for them. The only reason that more do not return is that they do not have the means. Their sad experience is teaching them that there is no better climate, soil and society, under the sun than in the homes they left. The farmers in this country are now beginning to find this out, and the oftener they are reminded of it, the better off they will be.

The Supreme Court of Maine.

Baltimore Sun, 31.

The Governor of Maine, the Hon. Alonzo Garcelon, occupies a very unenviable position at present, but it must be admitted that he holds it manfully. He contends that he and the Council of the State are bound to a certain course of action by a constitution and subsequent laws enforcing its principles, for which he is not responsible and with the enactment of which he has nothing to do. The constitution and these laws, he submits, while they have imposed onerous and individual duties upon him and the Council, allow them no discretion. Governor Garcelon contends that he is equal to the duties of the occasion, but does not wish to incur any responsibilities not necessarily attaching to his office. When Senator Morrill wrote to him to him to the effect that he should submit certain points in issue to the Supreme Court of the State and be governed by its ruling, he indicated that he was willing to submit any points not already adjudicated. Senator Morrill made a draft of the questions which he desired to have adjudicated upon by the courts, and Governor Garcelon has drawn up those questions in a modified form, under the advice of distinguished counsel and of his own motion, has forwarded them to the justices of the court.

The only difference between the questions proposed by Senator Morrill and those submitted by the Governor—a substantial difference, to be sure—rests upon the province of the Governor and Council as a returning board. Mr. Morrill's interrogatories were such as to solicit the Supreme Court to decide in respect to questions of fact as well as to questions of law. The Governor's interrogatories are based upon the assumption that the only possible relation between the Governor and Council and the Supreme Court is that the latter is to be regarded as an advisory body to the former in questions of law. In other words, the Governor and Council are a jury, under the peculiar constitution and laws of Maine, selected to try the facts in respect to State elections. If there should be any doubt about the law or its construction, this jury is authorized to consult the Supreme Court. As to the facts the Governor and Council's decision are both supreme and final. Upon this basis the Governor has submitted twelve questions to the Supreme Court, suggesting, in a hypothetical way, and without direct reference to the specific cases complained of, whether the Governor and Council of Maine would be doing right and acting under the law to decide certain things in certain ways.

The questions submitted rest, in the main, upon the fact as to whether the laws and constitution of the State are to be construed liberally or literally. The points submitted are put in a very technical and abstract shape, apparently without any regard to the immediate candidacies and elections. It is evident, however, that they have a specific and positive bearing upon the particular cases which have been adjudicated by the Governor and Council, and that their object, more or less remotely, is to secure a decision from the Supreme Court of the State in regard to the principles and the legal technicalities, also upon the basis of which such an extensive revision of the count in Maine has been made. The Supreme Court will of course hear counsel upon both sides in this important issue, and it will be quite within its discretion to make an election between the pleas suggested by Mr. Morrill and the points finally submitted by the Governor. Its action will not be binding upon the Governor and Council except by mere force of opinion; but in cases of this sort it is believed that this will be irresistible. In other words, that what was freely done in Louisiana dare not to be resorted to in Maine.

No More Hard Times.

If you will stop spending so much on fine clothes, rich food and style, buy good, healthy food, cheaper and better clothing; get more real and substantial things of life every way, and especially stop the foolish habit of employing expensive, quack doctors or using so much of the vile humbug medicine that does you only harm, but put your trust in that simple, pure remedy, Hop Bitters; that cures always at a trifling cost, and you will see good times and have good health. "The Loved and Lost."

"The loved and lost! Why do we call them lost?
Because we miss them from our onward road?
God's unseen angel o'er our pathway crost,
Looked on us all, and loving them the most,
Straightway relieved them from life's weary load.

"They are not lost, they are within the door
That shuts out low, and every hurtful thing,
With angels bright and loved ones gone before,
In their Redeemer's presence evermore,
And God himself, their Lord and Judge and King.

"And this we call a loss! O, selfish sorrow,
Of selfish hearts! O, we of little faith;
Let us look sound argument to borrow
Why we in patience should await the morrow
That surely must succeed the night of death.

"Aye, look upon this dreary desert path,
The thorns and thistles where'er we turn;
What trials and what tears, what wrongs and wrath,
What struggles and what strife the journey hath!
They have escaped from these, and lo! we mourn.

"We will do likewise: death hath made a breach,
In love and sympathy, in hope and trust,
No outward sign or sound our ears can reach,
But there's an inward, spiritual speech
That greets us still, though mortal tongue be dust.

"It bids us do the work that they laid down—
Take up the song where they broke off the strain;
So journeying till we reach the heavenly town,
Where are laid up our treasures and our crown,
And our lost, loved ones will be found again."

Make a Note of This.

Professor Green, a distinguished allopathic physician, wrote to the Medical Journal to the effect that after all other means had failed he sent for the Kidney Cure, (now Safe Kidney and Liver Cure), and to his astonishment cured a serious case of Bright's Disease by administering it, and afterward found it equally beneficial in other cases. He advised his brother physicians to use it in preference to anything else for kidney diseases.

Political Issues.

Kearney's advice to all parties is to "pool their issues." We think a good deal as he does, that we should bury the dead issues of the past. As a healing compound for all issues, sores, wounds &c, there is nothing equal to Henry's Carbolic Salve. Beware of counterfeits.

Cuticura

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS,

The Scourge of Mankind. Old Methods of Treatment and Remedies a Failure.

CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the Great Blood Purifier and Liver Stimulant, is the most searching, cleansing, and purifying agent of this country. It may be detected in the saliva, sweat, milk, blood, and urine in forty minutes after taking the first dose, showing that it has entered the circulation and been carried to every part of the system. It forever eradicates the virus of Syphilis, Scrofula, Cancer, and Canker, those terrible blood poisons that rot out the machinery of life, filling the body with foul corruptions. Taken internally in conjunction with the external application of CUTICURA, the Great Skin Cure, it speedily cures Scrofulous Ulcers and Old Sores, Salt Rheum, Psoriasis, Tetter, Ringworm, Scald Head, Dandruff, and all Itching and Scaly Diseases of the Skin and Scalp.

ECZEMA ON THE SCALP.

BREAST AND LIMBS CURED.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen—I cannot refrain from adding my debt of gratitude to you for having placed within my reach the wonderful CUTICURA REMEDIES, which have rendered unnecessary all further experiment of physicians, and in a remarkably short space of time have rid me of a loathsome disease. I dispensed with all physicians two years ago believing they did me no good. The CUTICURA has stopped this unsatisfactory expense—even if it were necessary and I had the courage any longer to follow their advice—and brought the long-looked-for cure and happiness.

I have been afflicted with Eczema or Salt Rheum on my scalp, breast, and limbs for five years, during which time I have been under the treatment of physicians, or at mineral springs, or taking some kind of medicine. I have been treated by Drs — of —, Dr. — of —, and visited sulphur springs and taken numbers of patent medicines, all without the faintest approach to a cure.

April 1st last, I began the use of CUTICURA, which was immediately successful in my case, entirely curing me. I have not had a clean scalp for 15 years until the use of CUTICURA entirely healed it and left it clean and healthy. The other parts of my body were affected in a manner aggravated form, but are now completely healed. I believe myself completely cured. I shall continue the CUTICURA RESOLVENT as directed, for its wonderful action on the stomach and bowels and cooling influence on the blood. It will afford me pleasure, as I have done in many cases, to urge the afflicted to use these wonderful remedies.

Yours, etc.,
STEPHEN CROWELL.
NEW BEDFORD, Sept. 30, 1878.

A RUNNING SORE

CURED IN ONE WEEK.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER:—Some three or four weeks ago I ordered a box of CUTICURA for a bad case of Salt Rheum. The back of one of my wife's hands was a running sore. In one week from the day it arrived her hand was well and has remained so up to to-day. E. P. DAGGETT.

VEST POCKET CURE
25 DYSPEPSIA 25
CLERGY & DOCTORS TESTE

Rev. Dr. Mangum, Prof. Univ. of N. C. I concur with Bishop Doggett in his estimate of the Vest Pocket Cure.

Rev. Drs. Jeter, Broaddus, Dickinson, (Bap.) It is indorsed by the direct personal testimony of men of national fame and strictness of speech. It is not too much to say that no medicine ever had such support in its favor as a specific. The word of any one of the eminent divines who underwrite this antidote to dyspepsia has deserved weight. Their united witness joined with the experimental use and approval of the preparation by well-known physicians, removes all doubt. It is beyond question, a wonderful therapeutical agent.—Editors Religious Herald, Va.

Chaplain Randolph Macon College, Va. Many cases of Dyspepsia within my knowledge have been cured by it. Cramps, Colics Headaches and all sorts of pains from indigestion yield promptly to it. The cures of this sort are innumerable.

Rev. R. L. Dabney. LL. D., Col. Va. It is highly esteemed here by the regular Medical Faculty and the people. It is excellent for indigestion and flatulent colic, sedative, soporific, tonic, slightly aperient without nausea.

Rev. B. F. Woodward, P. E., Va. Cont. About twelve years I suffered from Dyspepsia. Failing in with this remedy, I gave it a fair trial. After its use I could eat anything with impunity. I am sure I am indebted to this medicine for what of health and physical comfort I have had for the last sixteen years. I have known many since to be relieved by its use.

Rev. Robert W. Watts, A. M., Va. I have used the mixture in my family for years, and have taken it for a Dyspepsia Colic, which threatened my life, and was cured, eating any diet without hurt. I have recommended it to other sufferers with happiest results. It is the best tonic and corrective I ever knew. For prostration from Dyspepsia or Liver Disease it is invaluable.

J. D. Eggleston, M. D., Va. It is a highly valuable remedy, and is more extensively used than any single article in the whole list of medicines, so far as I observed in my practice, for all the complaints in familie from indigestion. I use it and recommend it.

Editor Richmond Christian Advocate. This remedy is of tried virtue. I have seen Dyspepsia cured completely by it. It seems to be an antidote to our "National Disease." The ingredients are not kept by the apothecaries, and have been difficult to get.

A Rare Chance for Investment.

Wishing to give my whole attention to the lumber trade, in which I am about to engage on a larger scale than ever before, I offer for sale on terms to suit the times the following valuable property in Cary:

I.

MY PLUG TOBACCO FACTORY, in a BRICK building 50x40 feet, 3 stories high, the lower story being two large storerooms. The Tobacco Machinery is new and has a capacity of manufacturing 1,000 lbs. per day. The factory has been worked a year, and a good beginning for a trade has been made. The building and the machinery will be sold together, or separately to suit purchasers.

II.

GRAIN MILLS,

In a 3-story brick building, 25x30 feet. Two Wheat Mills and one Corn Mill, new and complete with a capacity for grinding 20 bushels of wheat and 100 bushels of corn a day, and can compete in quality of flour with any mills in the State. The mills have had a very large local patronage during the past year. They are driven by a 60 HORSE POWER STEAM ENGINE, improved, of the make of TAYLOR & SONS, Richmond.

Attached to the engine is also a 60 Saw COTTON GIN and power press, at a safe distance (about 100 feet) in a different lot. The engine has a brick smoke-stack 60 feet high, making the danger from fire the least possible and the rate of insurance very low.

III.

Several well built and handsome residences, with lots and gardens of about 1 acre to each dwelling. They are wooden buildings, 2 stories high, with from 5 to 7 rooms each situated in desirable locations in the village.

Besides these, 4 one acre lots, with cottage buildings of 2 rooms.

TERMS: One-third Cash; balance on reasonable time.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Court to-morrow.

—A beautiful day yesterday.

—Louise Pomeroy at Tucker Hall to-morrow night.

—"As You Like It" at Tucker Hall to-morrow night.

—The County Commissioners hold their regular meeting to-morrow.

—The magic cure men made the street corners lively last evening.

—"Rosalind," in "As You Like It," will appear in Miss Louise Pomeroy's rendition.

—Mr. P. McGowan advertises land situated in Swift Creek township for sale at the court house to-morrow.

—D. R. Upchurch will sell to-morrow at the court house a quantity of land, the dower right of Elizabeth Moore, deceased.

—There will be a sale of valuable city property at the court house door to-morrow noon. Investors will find a good chance to lay out their money.

—A bunch of keys was picked up yesterday morning and left at the drug store of Pescud, Lee & Company, corner of Fayetteville and Martin streets, for identification.

—And on Tuesday night Miss Pomeroy will appear as "Nancy," in "Oliver Twist," one of the truest characters that Charles Dickens ever portrayed.

—Anyone passing through Capitol square in the early morning while listening to the moisture dropping from the trees would think that the Square was one vast shower bath.

—Exchange Place, north of the market house, is receiving attention from the street commissioner, Captain Andrews. The roadway is getting down to hard-pan just as fast as pounded stone can make it.

—Messrs. James R. Day & Company, of Durham, we are sorry to state, have been compelled to make an assignment. All indebtedness is fully secured. The cause of the assignment is not stated, but is believed to be due to certain failures in the North.

—Some lover of fun turned a rabbit loose in Wilmington street yesterday morning and in about three minutes there were about five hundred boys, more or less, flying helter-skelter after "bunny." However the rabbit got away, as the pursuit was so energetic that the boys paved the streets and checked the rush, being piled up three deep. The most singular feature of the affair was the absence of dogs, not one of the nuisances being around, for a wonder. Probably they had howled so energetically the live-long night that they overslept themselves.

—Among the many invitations sent to the NEWS during the holidays were one each for Christmas and New Year's from the Purcell House at Wilmington. The menu for the Christmas dinner accompanying the invitation is a gorgeously gotten-up affair, and showed that however other people might have fared on the day Mr. Cobb's guests found themselves within the line of plenty. The New Year's invitation for the McAdoo House at Greensboro was also received, and scanning the bill of fare one is tempted to grieve that he cannot be in half a dozen places at one time to enjoy the hospitalities of all our noted hotels.

Chemicals.

Chemical Fire Company will meet to-morrow evening for election of officers for the ensuing year. Let every member be present.

Attention, Rescuer.

The installation of the officers of Rescue Company No 1 will take place to-morrow evening at 7 o'clock.

What Physicians at Home and Abroad Think of the Seven Springs Iron and Alum Mass.

In the treatment of Dyspepsia, Chlorosis, Anæmia, Nervous and Muscular Debility, Nervous and Sick Headache, Dysmenorrhœa, Menorrhagia, Amenorrhœa, diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder and such like organic or functional disturbances, I know of no remedy upon which I can rely with more certainty of satisfactory results than the "Seven Springs Mass."

W. F BARR, M. D.,
Abingdon, Va.

I have found no one single remedy to yield such satisfactory results as the "Seven Springs Mass." In the treatment of Dyspepsia, Chronic Diarrhœa, Anamia, Chlorosis, and for Chronic Eczema, I find it invaluable, associated with appropriate topical treatment.

GEO. T. HARRISON, M. D.,
New York City.

From my experience with the "Iron and Alum Mass," I believe it will prove the best medicine we have in use, for chronic diseases.

G. M. D. PATTERSON, M. D.,
Eaglewood, Texas.

For Dyspepsia, Ulcerations of the Throat, Inflammation of the Neck of the Bladder, Leucorrhœa, etc., the "Seven Springs Mass" seems to act with almost specific effect.

E. O. GRIGSBY,
DeView, Ark.

We could extend this list into the thousands with such testimonials from physicians from every State in the Union, but these are sufficient to indicate its application. The reputation of the remedy is too widely known to waste words upon its character. In ordering from druggists always mention Seven Springs Mass. Price $1 per package or six for $5, sent by mail, postpaid.

Well Known.

As it is known that Dr. Price's Special Flavoring Extracts are not made up from chemical poisons, but natural flavors, delicate and grateful to the most cultivated palate, they are growing rapidly in popular favor. It is only necessary to try these flavors to be convinced that they are fine and pure.

Good Living.

The secret of good living is of vast importance to all mankind. Every good liver knows this—but when the liver is bad, then take Rosadalis, the the great Southern Remedy, and Mott's Liver Pills. They are sure to restore you to health.

Advantages Decided.

The advantages in the use of Dr. Price's Special Flavoring Extracts are decided, as they are put up in bottles of full measure; made from the true fruits and aromatics, without poisonous oils or ethers, pure and true.

Why Will You

Allow a cold to advance in your system and thus encourage more serious maladies, such as Pneumonia, Hemorrhages and Lung troubles when an immediate relief can be so readily attained. Boschee's German Syrup has gained the largest sale in the world for the cure of Cough, Colds and the severest Lung Diseases. It is Dr. Boschee's famous German prescription, and is prepared with the greatest care, and no fear need be entertained in administering it to the youngest child, as per directions. The sale of this medicine is unprecedented. Since first introduced there has been a constant increasing demand and without a single report of a failure to do its work in any case. Ask your Druggist as to the truth of these remarks. Large size 75 cents. Try it and be convinced.

Patapsco Baking Powder has secured the most reliable and numerous testimonials from chemists, physicians, housekeepers, cooks and bakers that any Baking Powder has ever had, of its superior merits as the most economical and practical powder in use.
